

STENOGRAPHERS MAY WIN WAR

Wonderful Work Being Done by

Fit Place in Which

Paris.—Stenographers may win the war. At least the last battle of the Marne which turned the tide against Germany was won by stenographers, reasoning along the same lines as were made famous by the celebrated recital to the effect that "a throne was lost all for the lack of a horseshoe nail." For if the French say the American soldiers saved Paris, and the American soldiers say the big war welfare organizations saved them with hot chocolate and other supplies when the commissary couldn't keep up with the moving troops, the welfare organizations have said more than once that the girl clerical workers have more than once saved the situation.

"I sometimes think that this war is going to be won by the stenographers," is the view of Miss McCook, head of the women's department in Paris.

Are Doing Their All.
Women are doing their all for democracy's cause by doing every bit of work possible, releasing men to do the fighting, from the base ports to the battle lines, in the service of the Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., the Salvation Army, the Y. W. C. A., and the American Library association, now joined with the Jewish Welfare board and the War Camp Community service in the United States war work campaign for soldier welfare work.

The number of women workers in the war zone, aside from the regiments of telephone operators and stenographers sent over by the United States government, is increasing daily. At a recent counting the Y. M. C. A. had upward of 650 women workers in France, the Salvation Army 1,210 lassies, the K. of C. 50 stenographers, the Y. W. C. A. 50, and the A. L. A. a dozen librarians. The Red Cross, of course, has sent over hundreds of nurses.

Seventy-five "Y" women are in entertainment work, from the ports to the trenches. Many have performed under shell fire and in expectation of gas attacks. All have endured hardships, going ankle-deep in mud and rain to entertain the soldiers. Four hundred and twenty-seven are doing canteen work, which means everything from building fires and cooking to mending socks. Some of the canteens are officers' clubs where elaborate meals are served. Others are counters over which they serve soft drinks, gum, cigarettes, chocolate and sandwiches.

Hardest Job of All.
In many cases they have charge of the hut libraries, handling books furnished for soldiers by their own organizations and by the A. L. A.

"D. P." duty—dispensing personality, the hardest job of all, they like best, for it means showing interest, being interested in all the men and helping them out in a hundred little ways of which no one but a woman would think. Some of the Y. M. C. A. women are driving transports in France, and the hut decoration is entirely in the charge of women. In all ways woman is doing her share, and more than her share, to make the world a decent place in which to live.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR
STOPS COMING OUT!

Save Your Hair! Make it Thick, Wavy, Glossy and Beautiful
at Once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch; but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you will see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing: your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A small trial bottle will double the beauty of your hair.—adv.

Looking Far Ahead.
A wife, whose husband is on active service, recently presented him with a bouncing baby boy. She wrote to ask him when he should get leave, and also when the war would be over. His reply was as follows:

"Dear Lucy—I don't know when I shall get leave or when the war will be over, but if the baby should be called up before I get leave, give him a parcel to bring out to me.—Your loving husband, Bill."—London Tit-Bits.

SEE NEED OF CITY PLANNING

Japanese Municipal Authorities Awake to Dangers Connected With Congested Centers of Population.

The remarkable expansion of Japanese cities during the last few years has accentuated the urgent necessity of city planning. With this end in view a conference of the mayors of the leading Japanese cities has occurred at Tokyo. Among those present were the mayors of Osaka, Yokohama, Nagoya, Kyoto and Kobe, while Tokyo municipality was represented by Messrs. Kishida and Ogino.

"In Tokyo, city planning was set on foot twenty years ago, about the same time the question of city planning was receiving attention in Europe and America," said Doctor Seki, mayor of Osaka, in an interview with a Tokyo Yomiuri representative. "In Osaka, however, it is only a few years since the problem began to claim serious attention, although the necessity of city planning in Osaka is perhaps more urgent than in other cities. The density of population in Osaka is certainly greater than in other places and improvement in sanitary and other matters is urgently needed. It is estimated that the population of Osaka twenty years hence will be 2,650,000 and that of the two neighboring districts 2,800,000, making a total of 5,450,000. This estimate is based on the present rate of increase, but it is possible the rate of increase may be larger. Herein lies the urgent nature of city planning for Osaka."

FISH AFFECTED BY WARFARE

Explosion of Mines Off British Coast
Has Resulted in Great Diminution of Catches, Is Report.

Wilfred Buzley, who is on the way to his tea plantation in Assam, India, said on his arrival in this city that the frequent explosions of mines off the British coast had caused a great scarcity of fish, according to New York Times. This was especially the case along the east coast of England and Scotland, and had also affected the coast of Holland. Herring, which formerly were plentiful at this season of the year off the coast of Scotland, selling at a cent apiece retail, now bring 10 cents, he said, and were scarce. Flounders and cod, formerly eight to ten cents a pound, are now worth 50 cents at retail. It was only at rare intervals, Mr. Buzley said, that the poor were able to purchase fish.

"The only fish in British waters that appeared to defy the mines and torpedoes," Mr. Buzley continued, "is the hardy halibut. Just before I sailed from England one of the steam trawlers off the coast was about to haul in the haul when the captain noticed a great halibut following close behind a cod that was impaled on one of the hooks. The halibut made several attempts to swallow the cod and was eventually hauled up onto the deck of the trawler. The skipper told me that the big fish weighed 108 pounds, and was sold in the market for $60."

SOME STARTLING FACTS.

More children die during the teething period than consumption kills annually. The pain and discomfort that comes with this disease of childhood may be avoided. Save doctor bills and sleepless nights by giving the sick, crying and restless child a few doses of Dr. Thornton's Easy-Teether as directed. It tides the tiny folks over the critical period of life safely. "Give the baby a chance." 18 doses for 25c., at all dealers. Easy-Teether Medicine Co., Canon, Ga.—Adv.

IS GUEST OF PRINCE

American Engineer Takes Lunch,
Seated on Throne.

Private in Pacific Coast Regiment Has Remarkable Experience in Monaco.

Somewhere in France.—Sitting on a real ruler's throne was the unusual experience of an American private soldier—William Williamson, a member of a Pacific coast engineer regiment—during his recent seven-day furlough. The throne was that of the prince of Monaco.

Williamson elected to spend his vacation on the shores of the Mediterranean. After visiting Marseilles, Nice and other southern France resorts, he went to Monte Carlo. Finding the gaming table denied to soldiers in uniform he went to view the palace. Swiss guards at the gate refused to allow him to enter.

Later, at a cafe he got to talking with a Monacan who spoke good English and proved to have an acquaintance with millionaire American yachtsmen. Williamson told him of his futile attempt to enter the palace. The Monacan offered to introduce him at the door and show him through the palace. He had no trouble in getting in this time. Arriving at the throne chamber the "simple soldier American" was almost overcome with the splendor of the room. He received another shock when his host invited him to mount the throne. After he had become comfortably seated luncheon was served.

Comparing his feast on the throne chair to the many times he had stood at the tall end of a line of 250 men with a mess kit to get his share of bacon and hash, Williamson was prompted to remark:

"It must be very fine to be a prince."

STRONG FOR CIVILIZED WAR

Sartorial Variety Seems to Be Chief Aim of Nations of Villages of Rhodesia.

Although we have not thought the people of Africa to be much concerned about clothes and fashions, yet styles, such as they are, have entered the villages of the dark continent and are beginning to cause the people much anxiety. Miss Pearl Mulliken, Methodist missionary to Rhodesia, writes of the African dress as seen in a day school, according to the Centenary Bulletin.

"Many of the pupils, who range from the kindergarten age to grandmothers, are dressed in store clothes. Their store clothes, however, have largely lost their identity beneath a covering of many colored patches. Weather has nothing to do with clothes in this part of Africa. It may be a real summer day and you are wondering how you can keep cool, but not so these boys who have been to town to work and have clothes to exhibit to their less fortunate brothers. If these riches consist of somebody's castoff overcoat he is sure to have it on and perhaps a bath towel around his neck, while most of the small boys are content with a yard of unbleached cotton for their entire outfit. But sometimes the big boys are quite generous with their little brothers and divide with them; such is the case of one little fellow who is the proud possessor of a vest which almost covers him. Two or three others wear their big brother's shirts, which is quite sufficient for all purposes.

"Some of the girls are dressed principally in beads, brass bracelets and anklets; while others have cloth draped around them forming a skirt and they are without a waist. One girl wears a pink silk waist with a dirty culotte skirt. They often appear in evening dresses, the cast-off finery of the town women, and they may be seen digging in their gardens with these on. One came to school draped in a white bedspread."

Styles in names changing as well as in clothing. The following are some of the names which the African mothers have given their children: Spoon, Saucepan, Hotel, Pumpkin, Gingerbeer, Cigarette, Shilling, Sixpence, Penny, Coffee, Sweet Pudding, Very Nice, Office, Tomato, Fifteen, Vinegar, Sugar.

Uncle Sam Beneficiary.

Members of the American Flint Glass Workers' union, assembled in Memorial hall, Toledo, were told an inspiring story of patriotic devotion by a member of their union at the entrance of a service flag, with 598 stars, representing union men in the army. After an introductory speech, in which Dean J. Quinn, business agent of the Toledo Central Labor union, told of the determination of the unions to back the government, President William P. Clarke described the heroic death of Charles H. McCarthy, who sacrificed his own life in France for the sake of a friend.

Not only had McCarthy, a former member of the Glass Workers' union, died heroically, but he had lived patriotically. Mr. Clarke said, for in taking out $10,000 insurance when he entered the army, he asked that the sum be made payable to the United States government.

Saving Man-Power.

One of the recent devices designed to save man labor is the slab-handling storage battery truck, which is employed at the plant of a steel company in Cleveland to haul heavy pieces of steel from the storage yard to the heating furnaces, says Popular Science Monthly. The distance approximates 500 feet. Before electricity was substituted for man-power the slabs were loaded on hand trucks.

The new truck is similar to the elevating platform truck, except that for its elevating mechanism a tilting platform is provided. This platform is secured to the rear axle by a pivot, being operated by a horizontal ram. By manipulating the ram the platform is moved toward a vertical position and its front edges are lowered.

Gentle Germans Quite Insulted.

Mr. E. J. Riggs writes this short but pointed letter to the New York Sun about German squealing: "On reading in the Sun that German newspapers are indignant because American soldiers are using shotguns, I was reminded of a 'card shark' in London in '79. He had held out a big hand for a killing and had it stuck in the top of his boot. Finally he got his bank roll into a big pot and reached for his holdout to switch in, but found it gone. 'Hold on!' he yelled; 'I ain't going to play in this game—there's cheating going on.'"

BAD COLD? HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED?

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends
Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours.

"Take 'Pape's Cold Compound' every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharges or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.—adv.

THINKS HE COULD WIN FOOT RACE NOW

Once Could Not Lift His Hand to His Head.

TWO TERRIBLE YEARS.

Family and Friends are Surprised at Great Change, He Says.

"I feel like getting right out there in the street and outrunning any other man in town," said J. B. Woodward, of 265 Rand avenue, Lexington, Ky., while telling of the remarkable benefit he derived from the use of Tanlac.

"For many years," he continued, "I had suffered terribly from stomach trouble, rheumatism and neuralgia. The rheumatism was so bad for two years that I could not raise my left hand to my head. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and I was almost afraid to try to eat anything. One thing after another kept me miserable until I did not know what to do for myself. You know what a man can suffer until he loses hopes of getting well, and that was almost the state I was in.

"Everybody had been praising Tanlac so highly, and so many people I knew had been helped by it, that here a while back I tried it myself. In two or three weeks after I started taking it I began to feel like a different man. I kept on using it, and my troubles are all gone. My stomach does not bother me a bit. I can eat heartily and digest my food, and can use my arms as well as I could before I began to suffer. My family and friends all see the change Tanlac has made in me, and I certainly am glad to recommend it."

Tanlac, the master medicine, is sold exclusively by Bell's Drug Store, Walhalla; J. C. Cain, Oakway; Salem Drug Co., Salem; Seneca Pharmacy, Seneca; Stonecypher Drug Co., Westminster; Hughs & Dendy, Richland.—Adv.
